Lotte Ørneborg Rodkjær, Deputy Lead, ResCenPI.

1. Presentation by Louise Engelbrecht Buur

"Planning End-of-Life Care for Patients with End Stage Kidney Disease: Developing and Evaluating a Shared Decision-Making Intervention" (app 1).

Notes:

Questions from Louise which were focus in the discussion:

- Have you conducted systematic reviews in relation to complex interventions in your research?
 - If, which systematic review methods do you find most useful when synthesizing primary empirical evidence of an specific clinical area?
- Do you have experiences with patient and relative involvement towards patients having to face decision about their EoLc?
- Have you noticed any consequences in relation to the involvement process?

How to choose the different schemes to measure outcomes?

Involving of patients to define what outcome to measure

What are the active ingredients/components in the intervention?

2. Presentation by Sarah Cecilie Tscherning

"Involving Patient Partners in the Research Process – Approaches and Challenges" (app 2).

Notes:

Sarah used break-out rooms where she asked the participants to discuss the questions below:

- Do you use PPI in your research?

What type of challenges do you experience/expect in your research if you involve patient partners/should involve patients partners in your research process?

3. Presentation by Hilary L. Bekker

"Implementing Research-informed Patient Decision Aids in Healthcare Practice" (app 3).

Notes:

The discussion concerned:

- How to move from research resource to public recourse
- How to differentiate between research outcome and societal impact

What is a research-informed resource, why different from other resources (e.g. meeting guidelines, used research to be developed, and / evaluated)?

Distinguish between service-led and research-led resources, implementation and research.

Thank you to all the presenters for some excellent presentations and discussions.

4. Other announcements

- Please give us your feedback to our website – we welcome all suggestions: <https://ph.au.dk/en/research-centre-for-patient-involvement/>
